- Bred and Fed- Tony Ferman talked about the requirements for this years entries. Bred and Fed forms will be passed out to everyone with Bred and Fed Cattle, Swine, Sheep, and Goats when you pickup DNA packets at the fairgrounds. Only the bottom portion of the form (offspring verification) is required to be filled out and signed by the exhibitor, exhibitors parent or guardian, and the exhibitors project or organization leader. These forms are due in the livestock office by the entry deadline June 20th.

For 2023:

If you plan on, or think you might plan on, participating in the Bred and Fed contest for 2023. This is for all species including cattle:

A new form must be submitted to the livestock office with all of the potential dams listed prior to breeding (except cattle). This is the top half of the form "Dam Registration". It must also be signed by exhibitor, exhibitors parent and project or organization leader by species. A copy must be submitted to the fairgrounds by a date to be determined, but will be this fall.

The bottom half of the form is then required to be filled out within 30 days after the offspring are born, signed, and turned in to the livestock office prior to next years entry deadline.

For 2024:

The same rules above apply for all species except cattle, but the deadlines will be altered to coincide with the Spring fair deadlines. Bred and Fed cattle dam registration (top half of form) for the 2024 spring fair must be completed this year and turned in by a date TBD, but will be later this year.
